Overview of Expungement of Criminal Records

To decide if you can ask a North Dakota state district court to expunge your North Dakota criminal records, you need to research the laws related to the crime(s) and the laws related to expungement.

In general, expungement of criminal records is deletion and destruction of all record information. In North Dakota, expungement of criminal records is only available in limited circumstances.

Currently, expungement of criminal records is limited to the following:

- 1. Records as a direct result of being a victim of human trafficking: If convictions of prostitution, misdemeanor forgery, misdemeanor theft, insufficient funds or credit offenses, manufacture or possession of a controlled or counterfeit substances offenses, or drug paraphernalia offenses were committed as a direct result of being a victim of human trafficking, the defendant may make a motion to the court to vacate and expunge the record of conviction. (NDCC Section 12.1-41-14)
- 2. Records for possession of one ounce or less of marijuana: If the conviction is a first time offense and the defendant doesn't have another conviction within two years, the defendant may make a motion to the court to expunge the records. (NDCC Section 19-03.1-23)
- 3. Records of juvenile court unruly/delinquency proceedings: Delinquency records are retained for 10 years after the final order, or age 18, whichever is later. Unruly records are retained for 1 year after age 18 or the expiration of the final order, whichever is later. The records are destroyed and all agencies involved are notified. Upon inquiry about the records, the agencies reply that no records exist. (NDCC Section 27-20.2-25; Rule 19 of the North Dakota Rules of Juvenile Procedure)
- 4. Records of DNA profiles: A defendant may petition the court to order the State Crime Laboratory to expunge the DNA profile from the database if the arrest that led to the addition of the defendant's DNA profile in the database 1) didn't result in a felony charge within one year; 2) was resolved by a dismissal, acquittal, or misdemeanor conviction; 3) didn't result in a felony conviction; or 4) the conviction on which the authority for including the DNA profile was based has been reversed or the case dismissed. (NDCC Section 31-13-07)
- 5. Records of unconstitutional arrests: If the arrest was unconstitutional and the charges were dismissed or the conviction overturned, the defendant may petition the court to expunge the arrest records. (State v. Howe, 308 N.W.2d 743 (N.D. 1981))
